A Good Cough Medicine for Children Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant there, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectation easy and soon frees the system from the cold.

Pleased at Her Appearance.

Jane was busy entertaining herself by looking at the photograph album. Soon she came across a picture of her self taken when she was a tiny, bald headed baby, and in all earnestness she said: "What a tummy homely baby!"

Fine for Company.

I had given a friend a recipe for a pudding. One day I was at her house with several others and at dinner the pudding was served. The woman next to me remarked how nice it was and I said, "Yes, and it is so cheap." Every one at the table smiled.—Exchange.

PLACE STATUES AT GRAVES

People of Budapest Have Odd Methods of Perpetuating the Memory of the Dead.

While all civilized nations either bury their dead or place them in vaults or mausoleums, there is a curious custom carried out by the people of Budapest. This is found in the large cemetery in that city which is known as the Kerepesi Kozsint, where nearly every family in Budapest buries its dead. It is very large and contains a number of handsome monuments, especially the one to Kossuth, who is known as the George Washington of Hungary.

The visitor to that city of the dead will find at the grave a photograph, painting or statue of the person who is buried beneath that stone, an exchange statue. When the family is wealthy there is the bust or a recumbent figure of the dead man or woman made from his or her latest picture, while beside it sits or stands the statue of the nearest living relative, man or woman, carved from life.

In some instances the figures of several living members of a family sit beside the grave of a parent. But perhaps the most interesting of all are pictures embedded in the gravestones covered with glass and thus protected from the weather.

Still another peculiarity is the bronze or iron lamp posts on the graves and the huge silver balls set up on many. The latter are like the colored glass balls used upon our Christmas trees, except they are always silvered and much larger. There seems to be no way of lighting the lamps, and the only inference is that they are used to light the dead to heaven or where candles may be placed when relatives or friends are offering prayers for the dead.

HISTORY NOT MERE RECORD

Writer, to Set It Down Successfully, Must Use His Constructive Imagination.

There is no commoner cause of historical misjudgment than the tendency to read the events of the past too exclusively in the light of the present, and so twist the cold and unconscious record into the training service of controversial politics. And yet history is inevitably to a great extent a work of the imagination. No good historian is content merely to repeat the record of the past. He has to understand it, to see behind it, to find more in it than it actually says. He cannot understand without the use of his constructive imagination, and he cannot imagine effectively without the use of his experience. I believe it is one of the marks of a great historian to see both present and past as it were, with the same unclouded eye, to realize the past story as if it were now proceeding before him, and envisage the present much in the same perspective as it will bear when it is as one chapter, or so many pages, in the great volume of the past.

We know in Gibbon's case how much the historian of the Roman empire learnt from the captain of the Hampshire grenadiers. And it would surely be folly to tell a man who had lived through the French or Russian revolution to forget his own experience when he came to treat of similar events in history.—Gilbert Murray.

His Mind in the Clouds.

Rev. George Harvey was to have been married to the daughter of Bishop Compton of London, but on the morning fixed for the ceremony forgot all about it and went off fishing. Much indignation was felt by the bride and her friends, and the engagement was broken off. But the reverend gentleman's second engagement was equally unsuccessful. Once more he forgot to come up to the church and lost his expectant bride in consequence.

Spirit Meant for All.

That spirit which suffices quite hearts, which seems to come forth to such from every dry knoll of scrub grass, from every pine stump, and half-embedded stone on which the dull March sun shines, comes forth to the poor and hungry, and to such as are of simple taste.—Emerson.

Evidence Alma Readers Will Appreciate.

Doan's Kidney Pills have done splendid work in this locality. Have merited the unstinted praise they have received.

Here's evidence of their value that none can doubt. It's testimony from this locality, twice-told and well confirmed. Such endorsements are unique in the annals of medicine. Should convince the most skeptical Alma reader.

Mrs. T. E. Garlock, E. Center St., Ithaca, Mich., says: "I had backache and my kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Kidney Pills greatly relieved me."

Steadfast Confidence. Seven years later Mrs. Garlock said: "I hold as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I endorsed them before. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of this splendid medicine."

STORAGE BATTERY

What Keeps a Battery Young

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job far beyond what used to be the battery age limit.
